

Marketing Development Funds

Impartner MDF makes it easier to manage your funds

Impartner MDF offers a completely turnkey, integrated process for managing Marketing Development Funds (MDF) and Co-operative Marketing Funds

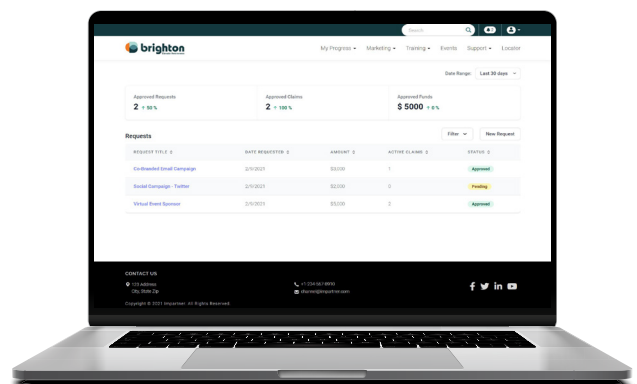

Without the right tools, cooperatively marketing with your channel partners can be a time-consuming task with mountains of paperwork, all requiring submissions, approvals, routing and signing. It's enough to wear you out. Impartner MDF offers a completely integrated process for managing Market Development Funds and Co-operative Market Funds.

How it Works:

1. Funds are accrued automatically within your PRM tool. MDF (typically an optional expense) and Co-op funds (typically a contractual obligation) can be managed separately.
2. Partners apply for funds right in your Partner Portal. You receive notifications and review the request from within your CRM — the interface your channel team is currently using to manage their channel accounts.
3. When approved, the partner receives approval notification and can begin executing. When payment time comes, partners upload invoices and proof of performance (POP) within the portal so there is no more paper shuffling. Completed payment requests are routed to finance with all the information needed to audit performance and process payments quickly.

Key Features:

- All of the tasks associated with MDF and Co-op Funds are centralized into a single point of control.
- Partners can submit MDF and Co-op proposals right in your Partner Portal.
- Your channel marketing team receives immediate notification and can review the request, with the option of multiple steps of internal approval.
- Your partner is kept up to date with notifications at each step so they know where the process stands and can begin executing as soon as possible.
- When the event is complete, partners can upload invoices and proof of performance (POP) inside the portal.
- Impartner Workflows sends automated notifications of approvals and payment statuses to both your channel marketing team and to your partners.
